RE: Non-Approved Attorneys List
Closing Attorney Criteria

Enclosed herewith you will find an updated Non-Approved Attorneys List (revised 11/98). This list is current through its revision date and replaces all prior lists issued by this office. To avoid confusion, such prior lists should be destroyed at this time. For your quick reference, the revised list includes a schedule of additions/deletions since the last edition of the list.

If one of your attorney clients is included on this list and you wish to know the circumstances of their inclusion, you should contact our offices to discuss the reason for his or her inclusion and whether or not he/she may be reinstated.

This memo should not be construed as adversely reflecting on the professional ability and integrity of any of these attorneys; rather this Company is simply exercising its right as to whom it appoints as an Approved Attorney.

You will note that we have included with this mailing a reprint of the Company's Closing Attorney Criteria. Please be reminded that you are only authorized to issue single transaction Closing Service Letters on attorneys who satisfy all of the listed criteria (blanket Closing Service Letters cannot be issued). If a particular closing attorney client or a prospective closing attorney client does not satisfy all of the stated requirements, you must contact the State Office.

We continue to experience problems caused by closing attorneys who fail to comply with the lender's instructions and our Schedule B requirements. Fortunately, because of early notification and quick response, we have been able to avoid these potentially serious matters.

Although it is often impossible to predict which attorney will fail to comply with closing requirements (or worse), we have found certain indications which may serve as warning signs and for which we should be on guard:

1. An attorney fails to promptly return all required documents after closing.
2. Complaints are received from lending institutions as to the attorney's handling of the transaction either by way of incomplete or inaccurate documentation.
3. The attorney fails to promptly pay the premium on a transaction after it has closed. This often indicates that the attorney is using the premium, which is trust money, for his/her own purposes. Typically, an attorney who is running into financial difficulties fails to pay premiums on his/her real estate transactions.

4. There is a rapid and unexplained decline in staff in the attorney's office.
5. There is a continual turnover of staff in the attorney's office.
6. The attorney fails to call for rundowns prior to closing.
7. The attorney fails to respond to your requests for post-closing documentation.
8. When placing an order, the attorney does not seem to understand the nature of the transaction.
9. An attorney from outside of your geographic area places an order with your agency for property located outside of the county in which you are located or customarily do business.
10. The attorney does not maintain a bona fide, fully staffed office in New Jersey.

Problem attorneys are often forced to "shop" for title evidence outside of the county in which they normally do business as they have probably alienated all local title insurers. In order to prevent adequate investigation, the attorney will often request a "rush" job. These attorneys are a minority however, it only takes one to cause major problems.

What this all boils down to is that you must know your clients. A random application from an attorney with whom you have no previous experience requires investigation.

We have said it before but it bears repeating — you are our best line of defense. If you are experiencing problems with an attorney or firm, you must advise us immediately. Ceasing to do business with a problem attorney solves only the immediate problem. Placing the attorney on a Company-wide non-approved status will stop him/her from bringing his/her problems to another office.

From your offices' standpoints, the best defense is to stay on top of each file. Policy issuance is not a mere clerical act which can be put off until a member of your staff is available to order the cover record and type policies. Files which have closed but which are awaiting cover records and policies should never sit for months without attention. The cover record for each file must be run as soon as practicable after closing taking into account the recording gap in the subject county. If the deed and/or mortgage is not found of record, this office should be notified immediately.

Additionally, there is really no excuse for an attorney to allow prior mortgages and other liens to remain open of record for months and years after a closing. Even if a Lender fails to return the mortgage receipted for cancellation after receiving the payoff, it is still the attorney's responsibility to follow up on the matter until it is completed. Not only do uncanceled mortgages create nightmares for policy issuance, they create an unnecessary market for letters of indemnification AND they are potentially a warning sign of a bigger problem. If the payoffs have been made, the lender is absolutely obligated to execute a cancellation, release or discharge. These items remain open only because of poor tracking at the attorney's office or worse.

With the number of transactions some attorneys handle, mistakes may be made. We expect this to happen and are always available to help rectify problems. Recurring problems with the same attorney or firm may indicate a less than thorough approach to handling real estate transactions. We do not need to do business with attorneys who cost us time (and money) by not completing real estate transactions properly. Please be on the lookout for the warning signs and report any problems you experience to our offices. Hopefully the warning signs you spot will be false leads but it would be unacceptable to miss one because of lack of attention.
